Program Description: This program will look at several areas of interest with respect to life care plans, including a discussion of life care plans generally, addressing frequently asked questions. This program will also provide an in-depth look at how to defend against a life care plan, including coordination of experts, disputing the value of future medical needs, lost wages, the impact of insurance, as well as other hot topic issues. Additionally, this program will address the critical element of life expectancy and its impact on life care plans. Finally, the panel will provide personal insight into common issues that arise in defending / rebutting life care plans.

Date and Time: Tuesday, January 17, 2023, at 12:30 – 1:30 P.M. The webinar Zoom link, CLE credit form and course material will be provided upon registration.

CLE Credit: 1.0 substantive credit is offered.
